Change in Formula

Customer Services - 2022-08-02 - Product

If you've been using Manic Panic through the decades you may have noticed a slight difference in the UK and US colours.

Here at Manic Panic UK, we have had to alter a few of our formulas in order for them to fit within the UK regulations. You may notice a change in consistency and in colour; however, each is still vibrant.

If you have purchased a Manic Panic colour within the UK and believe it is not consistent with your previous colours, please contact customer services with as much information.
